POPE PAYS VISIT TO SIT UP

ROME, April 17.—The Pope was able to sit up for a short period this afternoon in an arm chair.

Discussing the Pope's condition with the Spanish ambassador, Cardinal Merry del Val expressed fear that even though the Pope should recover from the present immediate danger of death, his health would be so badly impaired that he will not be able to the future to administer the affairs of the church.

The papal secretary of state compared the condition of the sick pontiff to the works of a rusty watch, which might go on indefinitely until some slight unforeseen shock brought it to a sudden stop.

Says Vatican is Alarmed.

"The papal secretariat has been alarmed over the condition of the Holy Father," said Cardinal Merry del Val. "One of the chief reasons for anxiety is the advanced age of the Pontiff, his years have weakened the vital organs in their functions. There have been ineffectual symptoms of tremor."

Dysentery has added to the Pope's weakness.

At 10:10 a. m. today the following bulletin was issued:

The Pope at this hour is unusually restless and is tormented by his cough. He is showing an inclination to sit up, but this is very difficult to regulate and his temperature is consequently rising. He is sitting up in bed and this is alleviating the cough to some extent.

At 10:30 o'clock the following bulletin was issued from the sick chamber:

The Italian Pope Pius X. passed the night calmly. He was disturbed occasionally by fits of coughing, but his bronchial symptoms are better. His temperature is 97.8.

This bulletin, unlike most of the others which have preceded it, did not say the Pope's general condition is good.

May Die At Any Time.

The Italian government, desiring to be absolutely sure of the real condition of Pius X., today summoned those directly responsible for the cure of his health.

The Pope's physicians replied to the appeal for a direct statement with the frank declaration that it was extremely difficult to say that the Pontiff's constitution would overcome the present crisis; but even if it did so, it was equally difficult to say that the Pontiff's constitution would be considered as perfect and that he might be expected to live at any time.

The Pontiff was very restless during the night and between fits of coughing passed in his bed. The latest rest was assisted by injections.

It has been found that the medicine administered intensively have disarranged the Pope's stomach and he has eaten with a bit of nausea after eating his breakfast, which consisted of fresh chicken broth and a slice of dry toast.

Greets Return of Sun.

Pope Pius was awake and conscious when the sun came today. A smile spread over his face and he whispered:

"Another beautiful day has come."

Cardinal Orsini, dean of the Sacred College, held his horse and carriage in readiness all night in order to be ready to take the Pontiff upon notification that the sun was shining.

Although eight-eight years old, Cardinal Orsini, born in 1824, is hale and feebleless, and spent part of the night in the garden, waiting a moment to be taken to the Vatican. It is the office of the dean of the Sacred College to carry the Pontiff to the church in the morning between two Popes.

WOLFF, FAMOUS SHIPBUILDER, DEAD

LONDON, April 17.—A. Wolff, one of the founders of the great shipbuilding firm of Harland & Wolff, at Belfast, died here today, aged seventy-nine. He served eight years in Parliament.

British Commons To Take Up 'Votes for Women' Bill

LONDON, April 17.—(Cassell's Daily) Lloyd George announced in Commons this afternoon that the government had set aside May 5 and May 6 for debate upon the women's enfranchisement bill.

This announcement was tantamount to the declaration that the bill granting suffrage to women will be introduced at once.

Introduction of the bill will be regarded as a sweeping victory for the militant suffragettes and a surrender on the part of the government.

New Hampshire to Build Wilson Road to Cornish Place

CONCORD, N. H., April 17.—New Hampshire is going to build "the Wilson Road," in honor of President Wilson. The road is to be built, at a cost of $12,000, from the Connecticut River to the Wilsons' farm at Cornish, where the President will spend the summer.

The bill providing for the road was passed by both branches in record time today. When the House considered it, it received the measure in a special message from Governor Parker. The House adopted it and passed it on to the Senate, which also passed the bill. The Governor then signed it in record time.

Terrier Gives Alarm; 20 Flee Brockton Blaze

BROCKTON, April 17.—A pet fox terrier gave the alarm for a fire which drove twenty persons to the street in scanty attire early today from the Brockton block on Main street. The canine belongs to Mrs. H. H. Stokess.

Stokess was awakened from a deep sleep by the howling of his pet dog. The animal was jumping over the bed and barking away at the bedside. Stokess, mistaking the dog for a burglar, slipped on her way to the door and fell. She was then rescued by a second alarm.

Several children were rescued by Stokess and others. The damage amounted to $1,000.

DAENY SLATED FOR NEW CHIEF WEATHER MAN

WASHINGTON, April 17.—That President Wilson will appoint Charles W. Daeny, president of the University of Cincinnati, to be chief of the weather bureau in place of Willis Moore, retired, was removed from office on charges of serious irregularities, was strongly hinted at the White House today.

STABBER FREED ON BOND OF $500

Eighteen-year-old Lillian Rounds of Cambridge told her own story to the AMERICAN today of the duel on her account between her brother, William J. Rounds, Jr., a page in the House of Representatives, and her sweetheart, Herbert B. Lerner, a senior at Rindge Manual Training School, which resulted in young Lerner being stabbed with a knife while Miss Rounds, her elder sister Fannie, and their chum, Beryl Grogan, looked on.

"Herbert did what any sweetheart would do," said Lillian.

ENGAGED, SAYS MISS ROUNDS.

Lillian declared that she and Lerner, have been "really engaged," and that Lerner offered to "marry" her. Lillian said she was "really engaged" to Lerner, and that Lerner offered to "marry" her. Lillian said she was "really engaged" to Lerner, and that Lerner offered to "marry" her.

Lerner in the Hospital.

Lerner is in the Cambridge Hospital. Lillian telegraphed the hospital today and was greatly relieved to be told that he was undoubtedly recovered.

Friends of both the Rounds and Lerner families say there had been parental objection to the love between Lillian and Lerner, and that "Lillian" Rounds told to his sister about Lerner was a constant source of quarrel between the brother and sister.

But Lillian says that "Lillian" struck her across the face last Monday, and then threatened "to do" any fellow on night before. This led to her complaint to Lerner and to the fight.

Miss Rounds went home at Beryl Grogan's home at No. 324 Brookline street, Cambridge, today. She said:

Miss Rounds' Story.

I want to tell this story in my own way, for the public might as well know the truth as not.

NINE DEAD, MANY HURT, IN HOTEL FIRE AT MALONE

MALONE, N. Y., April 17.—Nine persons were killed, a dozen more injured and three are still missing as the result of a fire which almost totally destroyed the Hotel de Wilson, in the Reform district early today.

Before the fireman had the blaze under control, the walls collapsed, and it is feared several persons are dead in the ruins. As soon as the debris began to clear a search of the ruins began.

The unidentified bodies were later found in the ruins. Among the missing is W. W. Cooney, a retired fireman, who roomed at the hotel. He is a brother of Joseph Cooney, a lawyer of Boston.

Among the injured was Thomas Robinson of Boston. His wife escaped unhurt.

MAN IS HELD FOR BURGLARY.

John Dooner, 25, No. 22 Warner street, Dorchester, was held in $1,000 for the Grand Jury today in the Dorchester Police Court for breaking and entering the home of Miss Harrietta Pierce of No. 45 Marsh street, Neponset, and for the larceny of $150 worth of goods.

CARRIAGE MAKERS ASSIGN.

The Sargent & Ham Co., a Maine corporation, manufacturers of carriages, 28-30 Bowler street, have assigned to William Harold Hitchcock.

NEGRO MOB LYNCHES NEGRO WOMAN.

STRANDER, Miss. April 17.—Mrs. "Matt" Masee, a negro, was lynched here today by a mob of negro men after she had murdered her husband by early cutting his head off with a razor.

BROWN OPENS A USURY WAR ON LOAN MEN

Paula brokers and small loan agencies throughout the state were severely hit by the action of the State today in the interpretation of the law which bans 3 per cent. a month as the maximum interest charge on secured or unsecured loans.

Licensing boards in cities and select towns were notified by Supervisor Brown today that business carried on at a rate of more than 3 per cent. per month would not be considered satisfactory to the supervisor.

Prosecutions will follow a violation of the supervisor's interpretation. The failure of the Legislature to definitely fix rates for pawnbrokers led to the action today of Supervisor Brown. The supervisor suggests also that licensing boards fix rates for pawnbrokers.

Arrests are pending in several cases of loan companies where extortionate rates of interest have been charged and the law violated in the serving of records in the making of loans.

Tuesday next Jacob and Arnold Brooks of the Bay State Loan Company appear in court to answer charges of alleged loan law violation, and officers are at work upon other cases.

"I am going to stop this usury," said Supervisor Brown today. "This charging over 300 per cent. per annum for small loans is to be ended in this state."

In all throughout the State about 200 pawnbrokers and money lenders will be affected by today's interpretation of the law.

Was introduction of the AMERICAN in 1900 more than its own high school newspaper and more than all the other evening papers of Boston combined.

FOES OF PURE BUTTER BILL ASK FOSS VETO

The interests opposed to pure food legislation are making a desperate fight at the State House to prevent the pure butter bill, now in the hands of Governor Brown, from becoming a law.

The bill passed both branches. It is the bill which was reported by the legislative committee on Agriculture on the petition of "The Butter Makers' and Manufacturers' Milk Inspectors' Association."

The anti-pure food interests were very much excited by the bill last Friday. On that day the legislative bodies, carrying on a general campaign to kill the bill, the enactment of the bill, without the bill, in the absence of the Senators in charge of the bill.

know the facts. Herbert Larner and I have known each other since we were little children. We kept company for five years. While he has never asked me to leave him, we have had an understanding and, in fact, were really engaged. The facts are these. Herbert objected to my brother abusing Frankie and me. Anything we did or said that "Billy" didn't like, he resented. Monday night, after some words with "Billy," he struck me across the face. I said: "Billy, you wouldn't do that to a fellow." He said: "You bring down your father and I'll hit him."

So when I told her Herbert, which was yesterday morning, I told him what he had threatened to do to Herbert. Herbert laughed and said: "I'll come down and wrestle with him, just to show him he can't do to a fellow what he likes to do."

So the boys agreed to meet later on at 8 o'clock. When it would be light, so we could see fair play. "Billy" brought a cane. I went to the front street afterwards. "Billy" and Frankie came. "Billy" was very angry. He said: "You brought down your father and I'll hit him."

So when I told her Herbert, which was yesterday morning, I told him what he had threatened to do to Herbert. Herbert laughed and said: "I'll

REBELS RULE IN 5 STATES IN TO-EFFIGHT ON MAYORALTY

Nobles Witness Brilliant Wedding of London Favorite

LONDON, April 17.—In the presence of many of the nobility, besides Premier Asquith and large representation from the House of Commons and the House of Lords, the Hon. Diana Lister, daughter of Sir Philip Lister, was married today at St. Catherine's Church, Westminster Abbey, to Percy Wyndham, baronet of the Duke of Westminster.

The wedding was one of the most brilliant that has ever taken place in England. The bride was attended by eight bridesmaids and seven pages, a vestal never before required in a wedding in London.

A military touch was added by the presence of the Colchester Guards, of which the groom is a member. The bride was driven from her home to the church in the 18th-century coach, which has been in the family service for over 100 years. Wyndham, who is twenty-six, is extremely popular while his bride, aged twenty, is one of the favorites in London society.

MOTHER OF STUDENT DUELIST SAYS SON DEFENDED HIMSELF

From the facts, Herbert Lerner and I have known each other ever since we were small children. We kept company for five years. While he has never asked me to become his wife, we have had an understanding, and, in fact, were really engaged. The facts are these, Herbert objected to my brother abusing Francis and me. Anything we did or said that "Billy" did, he resented.

Monday night, after some words with "Billy," he struck me around the face. I said, "Billy, you wouldn't do that to a fellow." He said, "You being down there, I'll hit you." So when I next saw Herbert, which was yesterday morning, I told him what "Billy" had done to me and what he had threatened to do to Herbert.

Herbert laughed and said: "I'll come down and wrestle with him, just to show him he can't do a fellow what he likes to do."

At 9:15, when it would be light, we went down to the gymnasium. Herbert and I went to the ground, to work from loss of blood to rest.

We started Herbert as well as we could, dragging him part of the way, to the ground. A doctor was called and Herbert was taken to the hospital, a few minutes after they had me over the hospital telephone that Herbert is doing nicely and will undoubtedly recover.

Herbert did what sweetheart would do, and he would have done the same for Francis as he did for me, but she did him of being abused by "Billy."

Says Brother Abused Her.

As she told this story Mrs. Beaudet has been stamped and the other was high in her roomed cheeks. She is a pretty girl, a brunette, of well-rounded figure, and seems like a spirited girl who would heartily object to a brother's abuse.

She made an attractive picture, framed by the front of her hair, which she had pulled over her head. She was a little blue over her head.

On the third floor of the hotel was a diamond ring. On the third floor of the hotel, the engagement ring was a diamond ring, one a diamond ring, the other without a stone.

Brother Pleads Not Guilty.

About the time that Lillian was giving her version of the encounter between her brother and her sweetheart, the brother "Billy" was being arraigned before Judge Almy in the Cambridge court on a charge of assault on Lerner.

"Billy" was accompanied by his father, former Senator Rouse. The young man was simply dressed in black, with dark gloves and soft hat. He pleaded "not guilty" in a confident tone.

REBECCA LEE IN 5 STATES NORTH MEXICO

EL PASO, Texas, April 17.—(Continuing account of five states northern states of Mexico, the constitutionalists are preparing to launch a campaign to complete the capture of the State of Chihuahua.)

At 10:50, the Rebels, father and son, left the camp.

It was reported today that Lerner is a professional fighter. This is not true. He is a student at the Harvard Medical Training School in Cambridge and will be graduated next June, in the ordinary course of events. He is a tall, powerful youth, and has used boxing gloves as many other schoolboys have. His height and weight are quite an advantage. Once he appeared with "Dave" Denker, the Cambridge boxer, which probably gave rise to the "professional" talk.

"Billy" Rouse's mother was at Lerner in defense of her son today as William, the sister, was in Lerner's defense.

Self-Defense, Says Mother.

The mother said "Billy" acted in self-defense, that Lerner is taller and heavier and that Lerner had telephoned ahead to Lillian that he was coming down to "give Billy a beating."

"Billy," according to his mother, Herbert said he was "like a baby in Herbert's hands."

"Billy" acted wholly in self-defense, Herbert told over his life and weight over 160 pounds. My boy is only five feet, seven, light and thin, and was not sweethearts. "Billy" said to say to me often: "Mother, I'll take care of Herbert's hands. He can do most anything he wants to do."

"Yesterday afternoon, the telephone rang. I picked up the receiver. Herbert said he was coming down to 'give Billy a beating.' I told him: 'You'd better look out, because I'm just one of the boys. I'll take care of Herbert's hands. He can do most anything he wants to do.'"

BILLY MOOSE TO FIGHT IN MEXICO

One of the important matters discussed at the Bull Moose convention in New York was the entry of the party into municipal affairs. The Democratic and Republican leaders in Boston today believe that the Progressive party will have a full-fledged candidate for Mayor at the next city election.

There is plenty of available material in the ranks of the Bull Moose. Matthew Hale, chairman of the Progressive State Committee, former State Commissioner James P. Maguire, former Attorney Arthur J. Bill, Colonel Thomas F. Isherly and City Councilor William E. Smith are but a few Progressives, any one of whom may be drafted to make the fight.

What Maguire Says.

Chairman James P. Maguire of the Progressive City Committee and informal leader of the committee of the party, is one of those who believe the Bull Moose will be decisive in the city election.

He said: "I am pretty certain that the Progressives will put forth a candidate for the city at the next election. We are in the fight for Progressive principles to stay and will take advantage of every opportunity to give the people a chance to adopt the ideas outlined in our platform."

The party has increased in strength since last fall and with the enthusiasm engendered by the state campaign we are in a position to make a great fight for the municipality."

Maguire said that the Bull Moose were not quiet on any one man, as yet, as the local majority politics.

According to the figures of the election commissioners the Progressive party is second in point of numbers in Boston. It took 2,000 more votes than the Democrats in the last election, and the total voting strength is placed at 20,000. The whole campaign for Mayor is expected to be conducted quite in fact.

Chairman Maguire and the other Progressive leaders say that the party will not lack for funds, and that the energetic and systematic campaign is in daily stages to branch into city politics, as seen in the campaign.

Mrs. Pankhurst Faces Jail Again.

LONDON, April 17.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, who is in a private nursing hospital, will be confined to a hospital in Holloway jail, where she is being held, on a charge of being a nuisance to the public.

Williams J. Rouse, Jr., is also in the hospital. Both families are present to remain only to jail again within ten days, as the only remedy for her condition.

Nobles Witness Brilliant Wedding of London Favorite

LONDON, April 17.—In the presence of many of the nobility, besides Princess Asquith and large representations from the House of Commons and the House of Lords, the Hon. Diana Lister, daughter of Lord Bessborough, was united in marriage today at St. Catherine's Chapel, Westminster Abbey, to Percy Wyndham, first son of the Duke of Westminster.

The wedding was one of the most brilliant that has ever taken place in England. The bride was attended by eight bridesmaids and seven pages, a retinue never before equaled in size to a wedding in London.

A military touch was added by the presence of the Coldstream Guards, of which the groom is a member. The bride was driven from her home to the church in the Bessborough coach, which has been the family carriage for over 100 years.

Wyndham, who is twenty-six, is extremely popular, while his bride, aged twenty, is one of the favorites in London society.

BIG VALUE FOR PEOPLE NEW CYCLES

Some interest has been aroused by the Boston AMERICAN offer of new cycles. Everybody's Cyclopaedia consists of five volumes, bound in English cloth, and contains all the information to be found in similar books of reference. In addition thereto is a treasury of facts and figures showing numerous subjects never treated in a similar work. There is in the cyclopaedia table of contents which shows the important subjects and events in the history of the world from the beginning of history.

The AMERICAN placed the largest book order ever given to a publisher and now gives away to everybody a new Cyclopaedia, April 18 and Saturday, April 19, every family will be distributed at the nominal price of $1.00 and no money. The AMERICAN guarantees to refund the amount of any order who fails after receiving Everybody's Cyclopaedia, that it is not entirely satisfactory and is not a disappointment.

MANAGERS HEAR SALES EXPERT

Charles W. Hoyt of New Haven, Ct., in addressing the Boston Sales Managers' Club at their regular meeting and luncheon held at the City Club today, declared that there is the same need for salesmanship today as there was in the days of old. He is well known as an authority on salesmanship and his book, "Scientific Sales Management," has created a new type of sales discussion among salesmen as did Taylor's book on scientific management.

SECRET VISIT BY SHERIFF TO EATON HOUSE

A secret visit to the Eaton house in Ainsliepi by Sheriff Sheriff John Condon led to a report today that new and important developments may be expected in a few days in the government's investigation of the murder of Rear Admiral Eaton.

The subject of Condon's visit is being kept secret by the authorities of Plymouth County.
State Officer John Woot was questioned regarding any developments which might have arisen through Condon's investigation, and said: "I wouldn't tell you any more."

Attorney Francis Grogan and William W. Grogan, for Mrs. Eaton, will visit the widow in jail in Plymouth today. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Eaton's daughters, Miss Keene, and Josephine Eaton. A conference between members of the Eaton family and counsel will be held at Ainsliepi before the trip.

OPERA GIRLS SELL AMERICAN FOR MAINE FUND

Mayor's Office,
City Hall,
BOSTON, April 15, 1913.

Editor Boston AMERICAN:
Dear Sir—Enclosed please find check twenty-five dollars ($25), my contribution to making up the balance of the Maine Memorial Fund.

At the time when the whole country was shocked by the destruction of our great battleship in Havana harbor, Mr. Hearst expressed the appreciation of all patriotic Americans by so promptly taking steps to rear a monument to the Empire City to preserve for all time the story of the brave sailors who lost their lives on that memorable and tragic evening.

THESE Show Girls are going to work for the Maine Memorial Fund at the ball game today. Those in the upper picture are from Trentini's "Firefly" company, playing at the Shubert. The lower picture is composed of Aborn girls from the Tremont Theatre. Reading from left to right and beginning at the lower row, the Fireflies are Mary Cassel, "Charlie" Melvin, Violetta Von Nichols, Ellen Gerald, Grace Noble, Mattie Vance, Edith Whitney, Louie Ducey, Bess Silvers, Frankie Farrell, Lucy Cotton, Florence Reid, Bess Bourne. The Aborn girls are Margaret Fitzgerald, Beatrice Ober, Lila Nelson, Ethel Gardner, Mary Connell, Bessie Morton, Valerie Morton, Helen Hennessey, Lillian Harris, Frances Wabingham, Helen Reese.

make necessary the raising of $40,000. Of this sum Mr. Hearst offers to contribute half out of his private purse. His efforts should be warmly seconded by the American people. Sincerely
yours,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor.

Pretty girls from "The Firefly" and Aborn Opera companies are going to attend the ball game this afternoon at the National League grounds. They have consented to help raise the $40,000 additional needed for the monument in New York to the sailors of the Maine, who was blown up in Havana Harbor in 1898.

They are going to sell AMERICAN to everybody who attends the game. This newspaper furnishes the girls with the papers, and makes no profit from the sales. All the receipts will go to the Maine Memorial.

The price of the AMERICAN is one cent. The girls announce it is going to cost more. A dime would very likely please her and by accident should pay a dollar for the privilege of looking at stunt and left, and getting all the news.

Stage Names Going Out.
The girls from Trentini's company are a lively crowd. They had a lot of fun when their pictures were being shot and they all told their real names.
"Stage names are going out," exclaimed Charlie Melvin. "When we go out to win fame on the boards sometimes we do it under the same name
we used to school with. The Greenwalds, Vivians, Gladyses and other stage names that used to appear on the programs are gone for good."

That seemed to be so for Lucy Cotton, Florence Reid—just as pretty as her moniker, the famous actress—Bess
Bourne, Frankie Farrell, Bess Silvers, Louise Ducey, Edith Whitney, Mattie Vance, Ellen Gerald (it used to be Fitzgerald), Grace Noble and Mary Cassel.
They all used the regular house names. Violetta Von Nichols has a slightly foreign ring, but Violetta is a beautiful blonde from Sweden and comes by her title honestly.
Some of the girls in the Aborns are members of the Boston Opera House chorus. Everybody remembers how pretty the girls in the Boston Opera chorus are. They also boast regular names.
Margaret Fitzgerald, Beatrice Ober, Helen

Bourne, Frances Wabingham, Lillian Harris, Helen Hennessey, Sallie Morton, May Donnell, Edith Gardner and Edna Nelson comprise the team furnished by the Aborns.

Greatest Robber of the

A Rensselaer Woman Says Rensselaer
Means Full Pay Envelopes

This is her experience—her own story in her own words. "I hope you will excuse me for keeping your letter as long as I have, but as it was near time for my husband to be paid again, I thought it best to wait and see how he acted, as he only drinks on the day he is paid. I am thankful to say he came home sober two different pay days."

Has this any significance for the family that is deprived of necessities and comforts because someone spends half his pay on drink?
The remedy the Rensselaer woman writes about is Rensselaer, and you can get it at Rensselaer's and put it in his tea, coffee, soup, and so on. He will know a thing about it for it is tasteless and absolutely harmless. If there's a drinker in your family, get it—get it right away—give it to him secretly, any way at all—but give him Rensselaer or he will soon get out the happiest family in the world.

If you like to try it—write to me for a trial bottle. I will send you one free of charge. Write to me for a sample and most of all, please do not let me hear of any more cases of drunkenness.

CHAMP CLARK IS DAUGHTER'S 'IDEAL OF A MAN'

NEW YORK, April 17.—Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Speaker Champ Clark, is in New York with her mother to meet Mrs. George Harvey, wife of the publisher, with whom she is going to Europe. This is the first time that co-education has done for a girl of 19.

"What is your idea of a man?" she was asked. "My father," was the reply. When asked why, she promptly answered: "It's because he is intensely human, because he has such a sure feeling, because he knows people as he is. Nobody in the world has a kinder heart combined with a better understanding of men than my daddy. He has always been my 'pal' and all I have been made real through him. His judgment of men is amazingly accurate, and his sympathy is big and broad."

"Do I believe in votes for women?" "Why, of course I do. Why should not women have an equal opportunity in governmental affairs? I am one of those who feel that the vote for American women is practically won, so why give reasons for voting? It's here and it will only take time to determine the vote from coast to coast."

"What are your plans for the future—work or marriage?" Miss Clark was asked the smile as she replied: "Marriage, who knows. But I have yet to meet a man like my dad, my dad. If I do nothing else, I'll keep me from the 'strut' of the 'leaguers'."

NEW INDUSTRY FOR 1000 MEN

The American Radiator Company is to build a large plant, occupying about twenty acres, in one of the suburbs of Boston. This has been brought about through the Industries Bureau of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, which has for its object locating new industries in Massachusetts.

The Radiator company will employ about one thousand hands. President Martin of the Exchange is now negotiating for other industries to locate within a short radius of Boston.

PATROLMEN SAVE TWO FROM FLAMES

Patrolmen Sullivan and Igoe of the Jay street station, rescued Lawrence Walters and his wife, Mrs. Alice Walters from the top floor of a three-story dwelling at No. 141 Cambridge street during a fire which started in the rear of the shop store, occupied by H. J. Vande on the first floor. The loss was about $1000.

'Money in Sight' at the Opera House

This year's Tenth show, "Money in Sight," was given its first performance at the Boston Opera House this afternoon, and apparently there was plenty of money in sight for the big show, for the man selling the tickets announced that it was a case of "standing room only" and very little of that. The show is given its second production to the Opera House tonight.

The entire show, music, libretto, lyrics, acting, singing, everything, is by the students. Like all Tenth shows the production is a musical comedy, full of action and humor, with lots of catchy songs and dances.

H. G. Mass, as Frank Harding, is the hero, and H. Worthington is the heroine. The plot concerns an Englishman who is directed to an American fraternity house by a former member, an Englishman, thinking that he was going to a distant hotel. The boys keep up the game for while, making many funny remarks between the old gentleman, who has a special dislike for college students, and the students, who are maneuvering at hotel servants. At last they are found out, but win his favor, and incidentally a large sum of money for their college, by curing him of his eye affliction. From next parts were taken by G. C. and F. W. Shedd, B. W. and J. B. Seifried, H. Worthington, H. G. Mass, I. B. Marshall, L. B. Huff, H. B. Walter, K. B. Owen, W. B. Willett, K. B. Brown, F. E. Stern, Z. Y. Chow, S. S. Smith and K. W. Reardon.

HELP BOUGHT BY 2,000 ANNUALLY

Over 2,000 persons with defective vision are now treated annually, according to the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal at the eye department of the Boston Dispensary, and whereas but a few years ago only 50 per cent of such people received proper glasses, today, through the aid of social service, 95 per cent of these cases receive the proper sort of treatment.

In Sunday's AMERICAN.

"I Am Just a Poor Boy From the Country"

Sensitive to the very core of his soul, avoiding the lime light, this is the whimsical answer that O. Henry—America's greatest short story writer—often made when friends or admirers, getting enthusiastic over his work, attempted to lionize him.

"Oh, Pshaw! Leave Me Alone! I am
Just a Poor Boy From the Country."

He preferred the shadows of the street corners, where, without fear of interruption, he could gaze upon the hurrying stream of human life as it passed before him. He preferred the background where, with a vision rarely given even to genius, he could gaze deep into the hearts of men and picture for you life as he saw it—its greed, generosity, ferocity, kindness, want, devotion, its laughter and its mockery, its feverish activity and its stark despair—all the complex interplay of human emotions which go to make up our life of today.

The color of American soul—this is O. Henry's pages. He shows that pure local color is all that differentiates peoples of various localities. He shows that a man is a man the world over; whether he lives in New York or Boston; whether he lives with his millions in the Back Bay, or lives by the sweat of his brow in East Boston; whether he sits in the Capitol overlooking the aqueduct, O. Henry did not write problems. He wrote lives. He pictures the actual life inside the human heart. To him all men, regardless of station, played the same parts in the comedy or tragedy of life.

WHAT A FEW SUBSCRIBERS WRITE US

Jack London Says

"O. Henry cuts American life with a keen-edged knife, the one side whetted with laughter and tragedy, the other side whetted with pathos and dreams."

Geo. M. Cohan Says

"O. Henry's keen observation of human nature and his ability to visualize types in cold print gives his pen dramatic as well as literary value."

George Ade Says

"O. Henry was the delight and surprise of his time as an author. In all his stories I find the keenest sense of dramatic value. His style is beyond imitation."

For years past it has been the habit of jockeys, who have never worn a running shoe in a big race, to enter their event without any training and attempt to cover the course. The result was that scores of promising athletes did themselves a great deal of harm, as they would keep on running even after they

This gave the opponents of Marathon running a chance to knock the sport. At the present time there is hardly a man entered in the race who has not completed either in this event or a like race of the same distance.

The North Dorchester club has a first-class number of tried men who are trained for the event. In addition to Madden, Sandland, Sockalexis, Gaskill, Horne and Bailey, the club has entered twelve other athletes of note. Charles S. Jackson, grandfather of the English Irishman at Lynn, has placed a ban on the "Trot" in the "Trot" and the popular steps at high school dances.

Lady Decies Has Brilliant Debut as Irish Hostess

DUBLIN, April 17.—Lady Decies, formerly Miss Vivian Gould, successfully made her debut as an important hostess in Ireland, giving a brilliant dinner at Luttrellstown, near Dublin, which was a conspicuous success. The hostess looked very handsome in a dress of white, and was a wonderful power of words and a fine dancer.

MOTOR TRUCK OWNERS FIGHT HIGH FEE BILL

By J. C. KERRISON.

Senate bill 484, which is on the calendar in the Senate next Monday, will be vigorously fought by motor truck owners and dealers throughout the State, because it calls for an increase in the registration fee from 100 to 200 per cent. over the present rate.

Mayor Fitzgerald was one of the first to come out flat-footed against the bill. He believes the commission should have accepted the compromise offered in February, which called for a fee of $2.50 for each car and $10 for each truck.

House Vigorous Protest. Accompanying the part of the annual report of the Massachusetts Highway Commission submitted to the legislature was the bill House No. 255, providing that commercial motor trucks should pay the same registration fee as passenger cars.

The bill aroused a vigorous protest from the owners of motor trucks throughout the State. A meeting was held at the State House, and the views of the owners and owners of motor trucks in the Highway Commission, which will view it as an attempt to increase the fee without any consideration of the public interest.

Depended on Agreement. At last Monday the bill was introduced in the Committee on Highways and Bridges, very few of the people interested at the time. It was supposed that the bill was the result of an agreement between the committee and the owners of motor trucks.

A vigorous protest was immediately made by the owners of motor trucks. It was pointed out that the bill was a violation of the agreement between the committee and the owners of motor trucks.

As the owners of the motor trucks are no longer in any way bound by the agreement made with the Highway Commission, it is not unlikely that there will be an early introduction in the minimum rate of $2.50 for each car and $10 for each truck.

GAG RULE BILL IS AMENDED IN SENATE TO AID TEACHERS. The State Senate has adopted an amendment to the School Committee "gag" bill, under which the Boston School Board is prohibited from introducing any bill into the Senate.

With all the amendments, the so-called "Montage amendment" was carried by the margin of a single vote. The bill was introduced by Senator Fitzgerald.

SNOW ACCEPTS EXPULSION VOTE. CONCORD, N. H., April 17.—Clifford L. Snow of Manchester has accepted his expulsion from the State Legislature on the ground of unbecoming conduct, a committee having found that he tried to sell his wife in the recent senatorial election.

With an apology, but when the motion to expel him was made and the vote counted, it was found that a majority voted to expel him from the House. Snow was expelled from the House.

STOCK MARKET

Prospects of a relaxation of the monetary tension inspired more confidence in stock markets and they were stronger today in early trading. In Boston a number of copper advanced, but the market in this class of stocks was not uniform. More demand might have been expected, considering the advance in warrants in London and the fact that shows themselves more amenable to sale to metal market investors.

The New York market was not stronger and by the end of the first half of the morning session Amalgamated was down 1/4 and Steel 1/2. Union Pacific had been quite freely supplied for a few minutes after the opening, and it followed the general list some. But afterward it was so good that a sharp uptick followed.

The London market became irregular toward the close. The Amalgamated Copper Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent, payable May 30 to holders of record as of April 28.

There was better sentiment behind the stock market in New York at the opening. The London market was not stronger and by the end of the first half of the morning session Amalgamated was down 1/4 and Steel 1/2.

STEEL TRUST'S DEPOSITS HELD BY MATT BARKS

By B. C. FORBES.

The public has always been told that the Steel Trust's deposits were held by Matt Barks. The greatest bank deposit, year in and year out, of any industrial corporation in the world is that of the United States Steel Corporation, the greatest of all business combinations, with its capitalization of a billion and a half ($1,500,000,000). Its assets of a billion and three quarters ($1,750,000,000) its net earnings running as high as $140,000,000 in one year, its annual dividend payment of a million dollars every year, its army of 200,000 employees, its annual payroll of 220,000,000, its output of 20,000,000 tons of steel per annum, its production of one million tons of finished steel product every month, fully 10,000,000 barrels of steel a year and 4,000,000 tons of coal.

For the first time since the organization of the corporation I am able to state today where this huge sum is deposited.
